Social Life Network Intends to Acquire LikeRE.com from Real Estate Social Network, Inc.

DENVER, CO / June 24, 2019 / Social Life Network, Inc. (OTCQB: WDLF), an online technology company with social network platforms and e-commerce applications in many niche industries, has entered into a Letter of Intent (LOI) to acquire Colorado-based real estate social network, LikeRE.com.

Through the acquisition, Social Life will expand its digital products and applications for real estate professionals. "Our plan is to go head-to-head with platforms like SLACK, but specifically focusing on real estate," said Ken Tapp, Chief Executive Officer of Social Life Network. "We are also excited about the opportunity to provide LikeRE with step up technology and resources needed to expand its revenue streams worldwide while enhancing our own shareholders value."

Social Life Network began licensing part of its technology platform to the Real Estate Social Network, Inc. in 2016, then a tech start-up, in an effort to help them incubate the LikeRE.com social network into a competitive force.

Britt Glassburn, Chief Executive Officer of Real Estate Social Network, Inc., said, "When we set out as a tech start-up three years ago, we knew that providing a better platform for real estate professionals to communicate with one another and their customers was going to be a key part of our business model, but now it has evolved into so much more. With the ability to create private and public communication channels, groups and business pages, LikeRE now resembles and leapfrogs SLACK in adding value to the real estate industry".

Upon completion of the transaction, LikeRE.com will become a wholly-owned subsidiary of Social Life Network, with the goal to create synergistic value by further expanding its social network and mobile application technology.
